RESEARCH METHODS

The research methods used are qualitative methods and library research. Studying the theory and the influence relationship between variables from an online journal sourced from Google Scholar and using Mendeley as a reference. In addition, analyzing relevant previous articles sourced from reputable and unrepudiated scientific journals.

In qualitative research, literature review must be used consistently with methodological assumptions. In the sense that it must be used inductively so that it does not direct the questions posed by the researcher.

DISCUSSION

Based on the background, problem formulation, theoretical studies and relevant previous research, the discussion of this research in the concentration of Human Resource Management, among others:

1. The Effect of Job Satisfaction on Leadership Style

Job Satisfaction is one indicator to measure the level of satisfaction of an employee with the work given and also with the compensation given. Job satisfaction is an important indicator for company management to evaluate whether its employees experience job satisfaction, because if employees do not get job satisfaction, it is feared that employee motivation will be low so that employee performance is not optimal. (Jufrizien, 2017)

And if someone gets job satisfaction, both in terms of workload, salary and work culture, it can be ascertained that the employee has a strong motivation so that employee performance will be maximized. With good employee performance, of course, it will have a good effect on company performance. (Lantu & Irfana, 2019)

Job satisfaction has an effect on leadership style. This is relevant to research conducted by: (Rozzaid, Herlambang, & Devi, 2015), (Lantu & Irfana, 2019).

2. The Effect of Employee Loyalty on Leadership Style

Employee Loyalty is an indicator to see employee loyalty to the organization or its leaders. Employees who have high loyalty will obey the workload and regulations given in their company, or those given by their superiors. Employee loyalty grows from the fairness given by the company or an organization, both in terms of salary, compensation, workload and also working hours. With this justice, employees will respect every policy made by the organization or company, so that during their work, employee loyalty will grow. (Mahaputra & Saputra, 2021)

Employee loyalty has an effect on this leadership style which is relevant to research conducted by: (P. B. H. Sianipar, 2022), (Mahaputra & Saputra, 2021).

3. The Effect of Employee Commitment on Leadership Style

Employee Commitment is a condition where an employee is ready to do the job and obey any existing rules. Commitments are usually made at the beginning of the employee's work, by carrying out a work contract that contains the workload given, salary, benefits and others. If the employee is willing to sign the work contract, it means that the employee is committed to the organization or company and the leader. (Angelliza Chantica et al., 2022)

Employee Commitment has an effect on this Leadership Style which is relevant to research conducted by: (Sumarno Manrejo, 2019), (A Zen, 2019), (Angelliza Chantica et al., 2022), (A. Zen, 2019).

CONCLUSION AND RECOMMENDATION

Conclusion

Based on the hypothesis of the research results above and the discussion, the researchers determined the following conclusions:

1. Job Satisfaction has an effect on Leadership Style. This shows that job satisfaction, one of which is measured by salary and compensation, has an effect on leadership style, where a leader who provides proper salary and compensation will increase an employee's job satisfaction.
2. Employee Loyalty has an effect on Leadership Style. This shows that the higher the employee loyalty, the better the leadership style he has.
3. Employee Commitment has an effect on Leadership Style. This shows that the rules given by the company affect the Leadership Style. With various rules set by the leader, employees will still have a commitment to the company.

Recommendation

Based on the conclusions above, in addition to the factors of job satisfaction, employee loyalty and employee commitment that affect leadership style. There are other factors that influence the Leadership Style, namely: Salary, Work Environment and Work Culture.
